Counselor's CORNER

OCTOBER 2021

Ms. Hassay

Counseling Monthly Focus:

This month we are focusing on the Zones of Regulation & respecting personal space. Personal space is the imaginary bubble around yourself to represent the comfortable distance between you and other people.

Recommended books about personal space:

- Clark the Shark
- Personal Space Invader

For Parents:

- Model personal space and body language.
- Practice personal space.
- Use personal space language. "Too close!"
- Use visual cues – like a hula hoops!
- Make sure to give plenty of reminders!

Let's CONNECT!

khassay@srvusd.net

Happy, Healthy Kids TIP:

When your child is experiencing BIG, upset feelings, their brain cannot listen or learn in that moment. Rather than negotiating with or punishing them, help the child name their feelings. Then, practice a coping skill.

Social Justice - 4-Part Education Series

For some parents, talking about race to a child can be unnerving. For others, it's a natural and necessary conversation from the beginning. Children begin to notice race as early as 6 months and begin to develop biases as young as 3. Parents must realize that when nothing is said about race, a lot is actually still being communicated. An important first step in teaching our children about how to be "color conscious" rather than "color blind" is to continue to deepen our own personal knowledge about race and to develop the skills to engage with them as well as others, in an effective way.

*This series is for parents who want to talk about race and are interested in learning tools. This is not for those who want to debate whether racism exists or not.

Join us for the impactful and in-depth 4-part educational series facilitated by Dr. Lori Watson.

DATES: October 18, December 9,
February 7, April 26

TIME: 7:00 pm to 8:30 pm.

Either zoom or in-person information will be provided closer to each date. You do not have to attend all sessions.
